VICTORY SO FAR.

The Weekly Payment Bill has passed the Senate yesterday in the quietest and most satisfactory manner. Now it only remains for the Assembly to have a gracious dealing with the Bill to make law one of the most reasonable, considerate measures that has been proposed for a long time.

It is good to see that no obstructions were placed in the way of the bill in the Senate. At one stage of the business it looked as if the big railroad interest, which hated to be driven to this act of simple justice and humanity towards its employees, would make a desperate fight. But apparently the conviction that the popular sense was strongly for this weekly payment, and that selfish greed and interest were too patently the only grounds for opposing the measure, had a subduing effect on the minds of the magnates.

This is well. Wise measures should always carry the day, and humane consideration for the rights of the working-man is a wise measure to-day.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

Patti never eats any bread unless it is toasted. She amuses herself playing billiards, embroidering tablecloths and making lace. Every day she drives out to Nineteenth street and walks through the Park, attended by Nicolini and "Hickey," a Mexican dog. Her parrot is an incessant gabbler, and when the birds begin to whistle and sing la Diva joins in, and the medley is more than musical.

Have soft towels for the face, and when bathing or drying use gentle upward motion.

Nowadays men are sensible enough, to look for comfort in their married lives, says the "Duchess." And surely the knowledge that one's future wife has a heart as tender as it is sympathetic should, and does, go far to arrange a man's decision of who shall be the partner of his daily life.

The Princess of Wales is forty-six years of age. She is far from pretty, although a very sweet woman. Her eyes and hair are fair, but her complexion is mucky; her teeth are poor, the dentine being so very soft as to require the constant services of a dentist, and the high thin collar that she forced upon fashion conceals an ugly scrofulous scar.

Bangs, low-looped braids and coils are worn by young ladies.

A new style of candle has recently been introduced which is pierced through its length with three holes. These tiny pipes carry off the melted wax, thus preventing the drip on the outside.

Every one, but especially children, should wear properly fitting shoes, no matter how common their material, says a fashion writer. They should be neither too large nor too small, and should have low, flat heels; that must be promptly "righted" as soon as they begin to wear to one side. If the toes of the foot show a tendency to overlap they should be rubbed with the hands once or twice each day; and if this can be given when the curving commences it will, as a rule, prove sufficient to correct any irregularities of this nature. If a nail is wayward in its growth, trim it only lightly at the ailing corner, but fully at the opposite corner. If both corners grow too deeply into the flesh, clip them carefully and lightly, and then sear the centre of the nail from the tip to near the root until it is thin and flexible. This process seldom fails to correct refractory nails—provided, of course, they are not neglected too long.

"So far as possible, let all women dress themselves like T. De Witt Talmage."

Butterflies hover over the new hats and bonnets. There are great, gaudy, golden butterflies, lace butterflies, and natural-looking butterflies with pretty plumage. The lace butterflies are the newest; they will be the rage presently.

Watches are worn more by women than ever before, and there were never so many varieties in shape and appearance.

Fans are somewhat smaller than they were last season.

SPOTLIGHTS.

It would be awfully bad if Cleveland were to become history as Fatty. Right he is to fat.

Barnard says he won't fault-hunt, but he is going to express his mind when he wants to do so. Barnard doesn't want too much quiet.

A religious man has given up railroading. He thought religion and railroading were a bad combination.

The Comer is going to Levy on the human race, which was said to think "she's cheap." It doesn't hurry up a good deal of the baron's contests will be what they were labelled.

Put away the lap robes. For the chance is at present that the spring has come to stay.

Kaiser Wilhelm will soon find how the new feature in his Diet agrees with him. Capital is beginning to be heard from.

The Two Bills.

Farmer's Wife—What's your name?

Tramp—Bill.

Farmer's Wife—Land! You ain't the Bill for me. I'm not used to thinking about me.

Tramp—Ready—Name, that was a chum of mine. He was killed before he reached the House. An indignant Pension Bill. You know me, cause I'll never pass.

A HARLEM BUTCHER'S STORY.

HENRY HELMKE SAYS HE SUFFERED WITH CATARRH FOR EIGHT YEARS.

He tried Patent Medicines, but They Didn't Do Him Any Good. He Got Relief at Last from Doctors McCoy and Wildman.

Henry Helmke is the junior member of the firm of Helmke & Helmke, who have a large meat store at 1435 Alexander Avenue, near 141st street and Second Avenue, in the Bronx. Mr. Helmke is a butcher shop in upper Harlem. Mr. Helmke lives at 307 East 141st street. The other day Mr. Helmke was asked if he had any trouble with his health, and incidentally remarked that it wasn't for the bones and fat the butchers had to worry about. In the course of the conversation Mr. Helmke told the reporter that he had coughed for eight years, and added:

HENRY HELMKE, 307 ALEXANDER AV.

"Yes, I suffered with catarrh for about eight years. I was always coughing with hard expectorations. I was always trying to clear my head, but it was of no use. I had a bad cold, and it lasted for weeks. I was always hacking and spitting. I was always coughing and expectorating. I tried various patent medicines, but it was of no use. I tried patent medicines, but it was of no use. I tried various patent medicines, but it was of no use. I tried various patent medicines, but it was of no use. My nose is now engaged up any time I have a cold, and it is a bad cold. I have to blow it through my mouth. Yes, Doctors McCoy and Wildman have done me a great deal of good. I feel better now. I am not coughing so much. I don't feel tired and mean any more. My nose is no longer up any time I have a cold. I feel better now. I feel better through it from day to day. Yes, Doctors McCoy and Wildman have done me a great deal of good. I feel better now. I am not coughing so much. I don't feel tired and mean any more. My nose is no longer up any time I have a cold.
